

THORNTON has been brain for some time is hard to bear.

To step on a man's corn is a bad sign.

Look out for trouble.—Brooklyn Union Argus.

Very precious and forward children are not the salt of the earth. They are too fresh.

The man who picked up a "well-filled pocket-book" was disgusted to find it full of trash on honesty.

A woman's work is never done, because when she has nothing else to do she has her hair to fix.

The Synagogue Herald does not understand how, necessarily, a man may be a better who makes his influence felt.

SPEECH is silver and silence golden. That is where it costs more to make a man hold his tongue than it does to let him talk.

Old subscriber: "What are you growing about? If you want an article you will cover a folk to grow and get a Chicago girl's shoe."—Boston Post.

Says Henry Ward Beecher: "None of us can take the riches and joys of this life, beyond the grave." You would, to sir, we'll take this side of the grave, if we can get 'em; the sooner the better, sir.

An exchange asks: "If kissing is really a sanctimonious method of seduction, why do not the pastors who practice it ever bestow their labors attentions upon men?" Because the men are away away, and their consciences, with the pastor's, and there is nobody left to kiss only the women.—Peck's Sun.

As a wife (time, 2 a. m.): "I that you Charles?" "Yes, husband." "Zash me!" "Angry wife." "Here have I been standing at the head of the stairs these two hours. Oh, Charles, how can you let your husband (brother) stand on your head on 't'lasts? Jemy, I'm spruced! How can I? By jove, I can't! Two hours, and no word from you! What are the causes of decline among American women?" Well, generally because she thinks the fellow cannot keep her in his hands, and she is not a very desirable bonnet. When a single man with plenty of "soap" is around there is not any decline among American women. What a speak.—Boston Commercial Advertiser.

"I've noticed," said Fuddlind, "that the roadrunners run past the fences that are painted over with medical advertisements. It's funny," he added, "but it's so. Did any of you ever notice it?" All of them. "I've noticed that it was so, occurred to them before just that way. Fuddlind is more than ever convinced of its profundity."—Boston Transcript.

Is one of the hotels at Nice a beautiful American, who is called "the hotel home" in full dress—low-necked, satin, diamonds, etc. On arriving and looking around the room she perceived the other guests to be in the hotel. "Well," she said, "if I'd known that it was only a sit around I'd not have put my clothes on."—Boston Transcript.

AMERICANS are of a practical nature. When an Illinois farmer who had got rich was visiting Switzerland, they dilated to him of the beauty of the surrounding scenery. "Yes," he replied, "I've seen it's very good. But it strikes me the Lord has wasted a lot of space on scenery that might have been made level and good farming land." They wanted to lynch him.—Boston Post.

The Chicago street car conductor may not be very civil, but he is a man of imagination. The Inter-Ocean tells the story of a member of the guild who, when a woman wearing a doorman waved her arms to stop him, and then, fearing to be run over by a passing wagon, did not move from the sidewalk but continued her gestures, shouted, "Come, madam, quit that foolishness! They want to lynch him."—Boston Post.

Some idea of the polygamous designs of the Mormon Government may be formed from the following public statements by their Bishop, Lund:

"Our Church has been organized only fifty years, and yet behold its wealth and power! This is the result of our We look forward with perfect confidence to the day when we will hold the reins of the United States Government. That is our present aim, and we expect to see it accomplished. We do not care for the territorial offices sent out to govern us. They are a mockery. We do not recognize them. Nor do we fear any practical interference by Congress. To-day we hold the States of Nevada, Idaho, Utah, and we will hold them in a very short time we will hold the balance of power in Arizona and Wyoming. We are now in the hands of St. George, set out with a band of priests for an extensive tour through Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho and Arizona. We expect to send missionaries to some parts of Nevada, and we design to plant colonies in the Washington Territory. In the past month we have sent more than 3,000 of our people down through the Sevier Valley to settle in Arizona, and the movement still progresses. All this will help to build up for us a political power that the demagogues will be forced to recognize. Our vote is solid, and will always remain so. It will be the power that will be accomplished for the Church. Then, in some great political crisis, the two great parties of the world will support. Utah will then be admitted as a polygamous State, and the other Territories we have peacefully subjugated will be admitted as States. We will hold the balance of power, and will dictate. In time our principles, which are of sacred origin, will spread throughout the world, and we will be able to bring about to turn the political scale in any particular community we desire. Our people are obedient. You can imagine us as a people of peace and order, and about with the assistance of a church organization like ours. It is the complete one the world has ever seen."

An Old Japanese Coin.

A. E. Ontonbridge, of this city, has a Japanese coin 400 years old, that possesses an interesting history. It is said to be the only one of the kind that has ever come into the possession of a foreigner. A few years ago the Japanese Ambassador at Washington asked the advice of Colonel Thomas A. Scott, of this city, in relation to the selection of an engineer competent to superintend the construction of certain important public works in Japan. Colonel Scott suggested Joseph W. Crawford, of Pennsylvania, then engaged on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. Mr. Crawford sailed for Japan and began the work of superintending the construction of a new railway in the northern part of the Japanese possessions. The enterprise was regarded as a very difficult one, but Mr. Crawford was immediately engaged to construct the Polono Railroad. When about 12 miles from the western terminus, Crawford was decorated with the Order of the Rising Sun and presented with the coin in question, which is of gold, 32-100 feet in diameter, and weighs 4 to 10 ounces.—Philadelphia Times.

Late Genlis.

A poet says: "When the sun imprints a good-night kiss upon the western horizon, and the blushes of the day are fading, the thought! The sky blushes when the sun rises in the morning; but, then, the poets are always asleep, for genies generally late."—New Orleans Picayune.

The New York Central runs one hundred and sixty trains a day—one every nine minutes.

To boil potatoes successfully: When the skin breaks, pour off the water and let them finish cooking in their own steam.

Steel knives may be saved from rusting by being rubbed with tallow fat, wrapped in paper, and put into a baize-lined chest.

CELLARS thoroughly treated with whitewash made yellow with lime, and will not be considered desirable habitations for rats and mice.

It is said two parts tallow and one of resin melted together and applied to the soles of new boots or shoes, as much as the leather will absorb, will double their wear.

CHAPSTICK of the hands, which is one of the most disagreeable inconveniences of cold weather, can be easily prevented by rubbing the hands with powdered starch.

Woodwork strongly impregnated with tannate of soda or silicate of soda—by treatment in strong aqueous solution of these salts—will be found to be quite unburnable.

To brown sugar for puddings, put the sugar in a perfectly dry saucepan. If the pan is the least bit wet, the sugar will burn and you will spoil your saucepan.

HOUSEKEEPERS will find that zincs may be scourged with great economy of time and strength by using citric glycerine or croscote mixed with a little diluted sulphuric acid.

GLUE frequently cracks because of the dryness of the air in rooms warmed by stoves. An Austrian paper recommends the addition of a little chloride of calcium to glue to prevent this.

When washing fine faces do not wash them all at once, but wash the water in which they are rinsed put a little fine white sugar, dissolve it thoroughly, and the result will be pleasing.

Garment with a piece of cotton velvet rolled up tight. For washing, pour a pint of boiling water on a tableclothful of alcohol. Let it stand till tepid, and sponge the goods with it.

Starch neckties can be washed in rain-water, to one pint of which add a tea-spoonful of white honey and one of hartshorn. Do not squeeze, but let them drip, and when nearly dry press between folds of cloth.

A CERTAIN cure for a felon is to wind a cloth loosely about the finger, leaving the end free, and in a few days the powder till the afflicted part is entirely covered. Keep the whole wet with strong spirits of camphor.

ARMY buttering four cake-tins scatter a little flour over them and the cake is absolutely certain not to stick to the tin. If your oven is likely to bake hard at the bottom put a piece of the bottom of the tin. Butter it well first.

NOTHING is better to clean silver with than alcohol and ammonia; after rubbing with this take a soft cloth and polish in this way; even frosted silver, which is so difficult to clean, may be easily made clear and bright.

Waxes water has been used to make a little fire may be very much lessened, as but little fire is required to keep it at a boiling point. There is no advantage whatever in making a fire of wax, as the heat will escape in steam, without raising the heat of the water.

To fix pencil marks so they will not rub out, take a weak solution of alum dilute with an equal bulk of water. Wash the pencil marks (whether writing or drawing) with the liquid, using a soft camel hair brush, and then dry by rubbing. Place it upon a flat board to dry.

Our Opinion Editors.

Almost any physician of reputable practice is qualified to tell me that the temperance that agitates society and puzzles legislators is after all not the most subtle or dangerous enemy of the country. Disease in its varied and acute manifestations, is to be dreaded, not simply because it inflicts immediate injury upon the body and sometimes the mind, but because it so often opens the door to the habit of opium eating, which is a greater evil than almost any disease that befalls man.

It is not easy to satisfy our sense of justice by holding the victims of this habit to a strict moral accountability, for about the first effect of the drug used, is to render the individual powerless and make the partaker a slave to a craving that was planted independently of his own moral choice. Women are the greatest sufferers. The nervous disorders to which they are subject, and the pains and maladies which attack them in married forms, seem to draw the doctor to the morphia bottle as the inevitable resort for the relief of his patients. This is like feeding babies upon soothing syrups. It accomplishes its end, but it does not cure the disease, and it exacts a penalty which it takes the suffering and sometimes the agony of a lifetime to satisfy. Alcohol stimulates never establishes a man's over body and mind in the same short period of time that suffices to implant opium craving in an ordinary human constitution.

Stonewall Jackson and the Wagon Tongues.

Mr. Howell, one of the proprietors of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, says of "His genius lay in two things—the thoroughness of discipline and his devotion. I do not think he was a man of great natural ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced, which, in my mind, accounted for a good deal of his success. It was that, whenever he was on a march the wagons must go to the side of the road, and be un hitched with their tongues pointing to the road, so they could be driven either up or down. Now that would seem to be a simple thing, but it accounts for the results. It was a military man, and he was a man of great ability. He could not talk at all. He was not an entertaining person. He was a rigid military man; educated at West Point, he had learned his lesson well, and applied it unflinchingly. I remember a single order which he always enforced

THE HICKMAN COURIER.

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1881.

Local Items.

Short communications on public questions printed, but not open to correspondence—except where we refuse to give name of author.

FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

We are authorized to announce C. M. VAUGHN as a candidate for re-election to represent the counties of Fulton and Hickman in the Lower House of the next Kentucky Legislature.

Venue predicts goods crops this year.

The Union City District Methodist Conference convenes at Martin, May 12th.

CHAMPION PRUNING KNIVES.

Charleston, Mo., is to have another railroad, the St. Louis and Texas Narrow Gauge.

Hertweck, Baltzer & Co., have just completed an addition to their, already large, paint shop.

R. M. METHENY has marked down to bottom prices. Call and see for yourself. Mince Meat at 10 cents, &c.

Clean your premises thoroughly, if you wish to preserve your own health and that of your neighbor.

Finley Kennick writes a card to the Columbus Times declining to become a candidate for the Legislature.

FIRE APPLE VINEGAR.

at 25-26 COWGILL'S DRUG STORE.

The Nashville Exposition is now in full blast, and our railway gives special reduced rates to all those who desire to attend.

A ten mile race for a purse of $250 in gold, to be ridden for by ladies, is the sensation of the Paducah Jockey Club, the 12th of May.

We are glad to see Mr. J. W. POWELL again at his place of business, he having been confined at home for two weeks from an attack of vertigo.

The Champion No. 9, late Dan Rice's Floating Opera House, is now showing up the Ouchitree river, under the management of Capt. A. J. Bird, of Cairo.

PLenty of FLOWER POTS at R. M. METHENY'S. Get your supply before they are all gone.

Prof. Vennor says there will be frost through this latitude in both May and June. Should his prophecy prove true, it will be calamitous to gardeners.

The Spring meeting of the Paducah Jockey Club Association occurs May 11th, 12th and 13th. We acknowledge complimentary from Gen. Thos. E. Moss, Prest.

The Fultonian speaks of an old negro in Fulton aged 104, who was last week cast upon charity, and demands that the county should take charge of her.

We are pleased to note that our young friend Robt. Orment, formerly an employee on the Courier, has been promoted to the foremanship of the Fultonian, Fulton, Ky.

The Silverthorn carried an excursion party from this place to Cairo last Saturday night, and returned Sunday night.

We learn that everything passed off pleasantly, and all enjoyed themselves.

If the people along the river between Memphis and St. Louis petition for it, Postmaster General James will put on a daily mail, which is much needed, and which we might as well have as not.—Lark Star.

STEAM JOB OFFICE.—We are prepared to furnish Letter Heads, Statements, Bill Heads, Pamphlets and all kinds of Job-work in city style and at city prices. Our friends in small towns should send us their work.

In many towns throughout the South "Nan-Crowing Societies" are being organized to discountenance and break up the vulgar practice of profane swearing. There are other places where such a society could do good work.

Read the interesting communication on thoroughbred stock, from Dr. G. S. Miles, in another column. Dr. Miles is well known as a breeder of thoroughbred stock, and what he has to say will be read with interest by those who know him.

Warning to All! Clean up! Clean up! and furnish your house with brand new Furniture, which can be bought dirt cheap, at up the 422 KISTNER & GARDNER'S.

The Rev. James D. Bash, of Columbia, Ky., is expected to fill the pulpit at the Methodist Church, Sunday, May 15th, morning and night. The Union City District Conference, which convenes at Martin, Tenn., on the 12th, will be in session at that time.

Another beauty come from single blessedness. On the 21st inst., at Hickman, Ky., Miss Alice Parker was married to Mr. G. S. Wilson, both of that city. May they have a pleasant walk through this life, and a happy haven in the world to come.—Tenn. (Ill.) Times.

The prospect for an abundant supply of berries and fruit of all kinds is unusually good. The strawberry plants are in full bloom, while berries are formed on plants of the early varieties. The wheat is looking remarkably fine and promises to yield fully an average crop.

One night recently some thief, or thieves, made an attempt to steal a couple of mules belonging to Shelton Winston, a worthy citizen here, on Mr. J. W. Powell's farm, 3 miles from Hickman. The watch dogs gave the alarm and the rascals fled. There have been several horses stolen in that neighborhood lately.

Notice! Just received a lot of Fine Chamber Suits of the very latest style, at prices that cannot be duplicated. Give us a chance.

KISTNER & GARDNER. A tug left St. Louis for New Orleans, last week, with seven barges, containing 6,100 tons of grain. It took 700 cars, or 88 full trains, to bring this little boat's cargo into St. Louis. To ship it from St. Louis to New York, by rail, would cost over $60,000, but the cost to New Orleans by river is only about $8,000. Don't our farmers begin to see the advantage the rivers are in checking railroad charges?

RELIGIOUS SERVICE.—There will be preaching in the Baptist Church next Sunday night, by Elder J. A. Clark.

A protracted meeting will commence on the 3rd Sabbath evening of this month, (16th inst.) under the leadership of Elder J. N. Hall. Elders W. J. Rogers, of Clinton, and J. A. Clark are expected to assist.

One-Third Of your life is spent in bed, so just call and buy one of those Solid Comforts and Twin Spring Beds, at the lowest prices.

KISTNER & GARDNER.

On Monday evening last a most terrific hail storm, accompanied by wind, swept over this city, causing much damage to vegetation, and literally stripping the trees of their foliage. It is said by many to have been the heaviest hail storm that ever visited this section, and the damage done to wheat, cotton, &c., we fear is considerable.

Last week, a man named Selridge and a woman named Anna Bishop, landed at Caruthersville, Mo., in a skiff. The woman went on employment as a house-keeper, and falling, returned to the skiff. When out in mid river, the man was seen by several citizens to throw the woman overboard, she begging him not to drown her. The town marshal and posse of citizens pursued the murderer, but failed to capture him. So says the New Madrid Record.

Now, that the spirit of improvement seems to have taken hold upon our community, it is not well for our city fathers to look after the condition of the streets leading to the court house? They are in a rather dilapidated condition, and are long, unless repaired, will be (if indeed, they are not already) so dangerous to pedestrians. This stairway is the most popular thoroughfare in our city—being the nearest approach from the lower part of town to the court house and churches—and should be kept in repair.

Ice Cream! Ice Cream! Ice Cream! Having purchased a new Patent Ice Cream Freezer, I am now prepared to furnish Ice Cream, in large or small quantities, regularly. Give me a call.

LOUIS KATSEEN. There is but one way for a man to be thoroughly independent, and that is to pay as he goes. It makes no difference where he trades. He can always command the bottom prices, and can take advantage of the markets whenever he pleases. Of course everybody knows all this, but it will do no harm to remind our readers of it. Men sometimes get to thinking that their credit is so good that it makes no difference whether they pay cash or not. But it does make a difference. Cash is a hundred per cent better than any man's credit.

For Sale!—The Hickman COURIER newspaper, established 21 years, and in successful operation, in a town prospering and increasing in population; and the Courier Steam Job Printing office, is offered for sale.

TERMS.—Time will be given, if desired, but notes must be thoroughly secured.

REASONS.—The reason for wanting to sell, is because of sickness in owner's family, which renders a change of locality on his part desirable.

SPECIAL.—Special opportunities will be given to persons desiring to purchase to satisfy themselves as to status of office, business, &c.

The new Tennessee fish law is striking consternation among many of our fish dealers. The law prevents any person from catching, killing, destroying or taking fish from any of the waters, streams, rivers, creeks, or ponds of Tennessee, under severe penalties. It forbids the use of seines, nets, traps, gigs, &c., or any appliance except hook and line. There are several hundred people who make fishing on Reelfoot Lake their means of support, besides others who handle their fish for their, but to all this class the law will prove great hardship. Such localities as Reelfoot Lake ought to have been excepted in such a law.

The public debate at Prof. Caldwell's school-house on last Friday night, was well attended, and every one was not only well pleased but delighted. The question for debate was: "Resolved, that the sale of spirituous liquors, by retail, is more beneficial to the community than prohibitory temperance laws." The affirmative was carried by Messrs. Waite, Reulbach and Isbell, and the negative by C. H. Wilson. The judges decided in favor of the affirmative. It would be invidious to particularize where all acquitted themselves so well. The young gentlemen deserve great credit for the organization and for the manner in which their debates are conducted. The society will henceforth be known as the "Shiloh Debate Society." It strikes us as being rather suggestive.

RIVER NEWS.—What's the river going to do? is now the live question; and no one can answer; and if one attempts to answer no one will believe the answer. It is certain that the river has been rising here for the past three days, and that after falling 3 to 4 feet it has again rose 5 to 6 inches. The country about St. Louis and above is flooded, and all that big volume of water has to pass down this way. The flood is getting a little higher each day at St. Louis, but is falling above there. The other rivers have been falling the past week. The local rains helped to swell the river, and if left only to the upper flood the rise here would be scarcely noticeable. It is at that stage that keeps everybody in certain and uneasy. If we can have clear, fair weather, our opinion is, our bottoms are safe; but otherwise, there is danger of making no good crops in the bottoms.

The Star Route robbery of the Government bids fair to equal in enormity the Balkan exposure, and to bring down some big guns to disgrace and possibly to the penitentiary. Some think President Garfield will smother it up for party reasons, while others assert that he will let no guilty man escape. Brady, the chief Star Route robber, threatens to tell awful things on Garfield and others if they don't let up on him.

Prof. Vennor predicted on April 26 that May will be a cold, with snow in some localities, and very hot weather between the 8th and 15th, with thunder showers and frosts between the 25th and 26th. He thinks that there will be frost every month in the year. This prediction is limited to the Northern States.

COURIER QUERY BOX.

Questions or answers solicited from any reader of the COURIER, and particularly from pupils of Fulton County schools. When a question cannot be readily answered, it will be printed expecting some reader to answer it. No religious or political argument, or proposition in mathematics, admitted.

HICKMAN, KY. Editor Courier.—What five words in the English language end with "ion"? J. C. W.

Referred to the schools.

JORDAN STATION, KY. Mr. Editor.—Will you please publish name of the oldest man in Fulton county? Also, the oldest lady? ROBERT.

Will our readers send us the names and ages of the oldest persons in their respective neighborhoods, that we may answer the question.

FULTON COUNTY. El Query Column.—What is the object of the Smithsonian Institute, and how is it managed? R. J. M.

Answer.—According to the bequest of Mr. Smithsonian, its object is the "promotion of science and the diffusion of knowledge," and its management under the direction of the Government of the United States.

FULTON ACADEMY. Mr. Editor.—Can any one of your readers tell me the author of "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." In Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations" it is given as used by John Wesley in a sermon on dust, but by him quoted in this wise: "Cleanliness is a duty not a sin; Cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness." I will be very glad to learn who was the author of this quotation. B. H. SCHOLAR.

SCHOOL HOUSE, HICKMAN, KY. El Query.—Which six poems of Tennyson and Wordsworth would you recommend to a student of English literature? Also, the best of their poetry? Q. Q. Q.

Answer.—There are no six poems, any author, which can be sharply distinguished as his best. A good representative of (of shorter poems) should be Tennyson's "Locksley Hall," "Lady Clara Vere de Vere," "The May Queen," "Dora," "Ariana," and "Rippling," and Wordsworth's "Ode on Immortality," "Ruth," "We are Seven," "Lines on Tintern Abbey," "A Poet's Life," and the sonnet on London.

HICKMAN, KY. El Query Column.—What does the term "penny" designate the size of the Vulgate mean? and how many kind of out calls are there in reading of royal entertainments in England? I see mention of the "Eury," what does it mean? D. W.

Answer.—The word "penny" originally was intended to mean pound. This ten-penny nails weighing 10 pounds per thousand, four penny nails four pounds per thousand, etc. Of late years, however, manufacturers have learned economy in material, as none are now made to cut up to 20 penny, and spikes up to 7 inches.

Courier Query Column.—What does the Catholic Church mean by the Vulgate in scripture? CHARTER OAK, RANDOLPH EXTENSION, at J. N. CORMAN & CO'S. ap16-31.

ROSES PREPARED. We send 10 cents for 100 roses for $1.00. 22 for $2.00. 35 for $3.00. 50 for $5.00. Write for Descriptive Rose Catalogue. Address, LOUISVILLE, KY. P. O. Box 107, Louisville, Ky.

Last Call. All parties indebted to the firm of J. Amberg & Sons, for the year 1880, will please call and settle at an early date, or the same will be placed for collection.

ALL parties indebted to the estate of John Simones, will please call and settle at an early date, or the same will be placed for collection.

MRS. J. B. AMBERG, Adm'r.

Hickman, Cairo & New Madrid.

THE STEAMER SILVERTHORN.

W. J. TURNER, MASTER. J. K. MUSE, CLERK.

Leaves Hickman for Cairo, and intermediate points, Monday nights, returning leaves Hickman for New Madrid, Wednesdays and Saturdays, April 31.

GO TO THE DRUG STORE

J. W. Cowgill.

Drugs, Patent Medicines, FANCY TOILET ARTICLES, FINE PERFUMES, SOAPS, PAINTS, OILS, DYE STUFFS, CIGARS AND TOBACCO, Pocket Knives, Razors, SEWING MACHINES, &c.

Prescriptions Accurately Compounded at the Drug Store of

JNO. W. COWGILL.

CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.

KYMES & MEACHAM.

Announce that they have in store a well-selected stock of CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, which they will sell as low as any regular house. Rent reserved in general use as a term applied to persons who extort money from others by threats of accusation or exposure of some alleged offense.

UNION CITY ITEMS FROM "OUR COURIER."—Wheat is looking splendid. Hog cholera prevalent.—The woolen factory is being repaired.—John T. Cassette, of Woodland Mills, has sold his saw mill.—The express office at Rives was robbed of $285 Saturday night, &c.

FULTON ITEMS FROM THE MONITOR.—Mrs. Ann Eliza Young, one of the widows of Brigham Young, is to lecture in Mayfield on the 12th.—The peach crop is expected to be a failure in Graves.—The Ballard County News has been resurrected and is edited by E. O. Pettit.—Capt. T. Elmore, J. K. Jamison, J. M. Cosby and G. W. Sanders are candidates to represent Graves in the Legislature.—Judge Boone is holding Circuit Court in place of Judge Crossland, &c.

The dead lock in the United States Senate is broken, and the Republicans have backed down.

An important feature of the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Cotton Planters' Association, at Memphis, Tenn., this week, will be the display of improved machinery for the cultivation and handling of cotton and other products. The leading implement factories of the North and West will be represented.

MARRIED.

BARNES—KINDRED.—In this city, at the Methodist church, Sunday last, by Rev. E. K. Bransford, Mr. J. O. Barnes, City Marshal of Hickman, and Miss Sue Kindred.

Our worthy City Marshal has made an "arrest" under due "warrant," which only the Court above can "dismiss" or pronounce final judgment upon. May it stand all tests in this life, with happiness and pleasure, and when the final summons comes may the Grand Marshal of the universe "them safely keep" in the "lock-up" not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Exhibiting that wise forethought so commendable, the groom and bride, together, selected and purchased their furniture, household goods, &c., precisely as all ought, and so few think anything about, before marriage. May they live long and happily.

SPRING! SPRING!

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to Announce to the Public that we have the best assortment of DRY GOODS

EVER OFFERED TO THE TRADE HERE, VIZ:

Fine Dress Mohairs, Fine Pongee Silks, Fine Lace Bunting, Fine Leno Bunting, Fine Linen Lawns, Fine Pacific Lawns, Also, Trimming Silk to match Dress Goods.

Also, a good and pretty selection of Prints, Extra quality of Bleached, Brown, and Sea Island Domestic, at very low prices.

A complete line of Ladies, Misses and Children's (Custom-Made) Side-Lace, and Button Shoes, which we will sell as low as the lowest.

We ask the PUBLIC TO CALL and examine our large stock of new and stylish Fur Hats for Men and Boys. Also, for same in Straw Goods.

We Cannot be Beaten in Style, Quality or Price!

A FRESH LOT OF GROCERIES AT REGULAR PRICES.

J. AMBERG'S SONS.

E. H. WILSON & CO., COTTON FACTORS.

GEN'L COMMISSION MERCHANTS, No. 73, Carondelet St., NEW ORLEANS.

Liberal Advances made on Consignments.

CHAS. A. HOLCOMBE.

Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils and Dye-Stuffs.

HICKMAN : : KENTUCKY.

HICKMAN WHARFBOAT!

J. A. OVERTON & CO.,

ONE OF THE SAFEST AND MOST SUBSTANTIAL BOATS ON THE RIVER.

Consignment and prompt attention given to the shipment of all kinds of Country Produce, Live Stock, etc.

LACLEDE HOUSE, HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.

THIS HOUSE HAS BEEN RECENTLY ENLARGED, REFITTED, REFURNISHED, and thoroughly renovated. Convenient to river and railroad, and attentive watch kept; and altogether one of the best appointed hotels in this section.

W. J. TURNER, Prop'r.

TO BUY YOUR

Drugs, Patent Medicines, FANCY TOILET ARTICLES, FINE PERFUMES, SOAPS, PAINTS, OILS, DYE STUFFS, CIGARS AND TOBACCO, Pocket Knives, Razors, SEWING MACHINES, &c.

Prescriptions Accurately Compounded at the Drug Store of

JNO. W. COWGILL.

CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.

KYMES & MEACHAM.

Announce that they have in store a well-selected stock of CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, which they will sell as low as any regular house. Rent reserved in general use as a term applied to persons who extort money from others by threats of accusation or exposure of some alleged offense.

UNION CITY ITEMS FROM "OUR COURIER."—Wheat is looking splendid. Hog cholera prevalent.—The woolen factory is being repaired.—John T. Cassette, of Woodland Mills, has sold his saw mill.—The express office at Rives was robbed of $285 Saturday night, &c.

FULTON ITEMS FROM THE MONITOR.—Mrs. Ann Eliza Young, one of the widows of Brigham Young, is to lecture in Mayfield on the 12th.—The peach crop is expected to be a failure in Graves.—The Ballard County News has been resurrected and is edited by E. O. Pettit.—Capt. T. Elmore, J. K. Jamison, J. M. Cosby and G. W. Sanders are candidates to represent Graves in the Legislature.—Judge Boone is holding Circuit Court in place of Judge Crossland, &c.

The dead lock in the United States Senate is broken, and the Republicans have backed down.

An important feature of the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Cotton Planters' Association, at Memphis, Tenn., this week, will be the display of improved machinery for the cultivation and handling of cotton and other products. The leading implement factories of the North and West will be represented.

MARRIED.

BARNES—KINDRED.—In this city, at the Methodist church, Sunday last, by Rev. E. K. Bransford, Mr. J. O. Barnes, City Marshal of Hickman, and Miss Sue Kindred.

Our worthy City Marshal has made an "arrest" under due "warrant," which only the Court above can "dismiss" or pronounce final judgment upon. May it stand all tests in this life, with happiness and pleasure, and when the final summons comes may the Grand Marshal of the universe "them safely keep" in the "lock-up" not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

Exhibiting that wise forethought so commendable, the groom and bride, together, selected and purchased their furniture, household goods, &c., precisely as all ought, and so few think anything about, before marriage. May they live long and happily.

ALL parties indebted to the estate of John Simones, will please call and settle at an early date, or the same will be placed for collection.

MRS. J. B. AMBERG, Adm'r.

Hickman, Cairo & New Madrid.

THE STEAMER SILVERTHORN.

SPRING! SPRING!

TO THE PUBLIC!

We wish to Announce to the Public that we have the best assortment of DRY GOODS

EVER OFFERED TO THE TRADE HERE, VIZ:

Fine Dress Mohairs, Fine Pongee Silks, Fine Lace Bunting, Fine Leno Bunting, Fine Linen Lawns, Fine Pacific Lawns, Also, Trimming Silk to match Dress Goods.

Also, a good and pretty selection of Prints, Extra quality of Bleached, Brown, and Sea Island Domestic, at very low prices.

A complete line of Ladies, Misses and Children's (Custom-Made) Side-Lace, and Button Shoes, which we will sell as low as the lowest.

We ask the PUBLIC TO CALL and examine our large stock of new and stylish Fur Hats for Men and Boys. Also, for same in Straw Goods.

We Cannot be Beaten in Style, Quality or Price!

A FRESH LOT OF GROCERIES AT REGULAR PRICES.

J. AMBERG'S SONS.

E. H. WILSON & CO., COTTON FACTORS.

GEN'L COMMISSION MERCHANTS, No. 73, Carondelet St., NEW ORLEANS.

Liberal Advances made on Consignments.

CHAS. A. HOLCOMBE.

Drugs and Medicines, Paints, Oils and Dye-Stuffs.

HICKMAN : : KENTUCKY.

HICKMAN WHARFBOAT!

J. A. OVERTON & CO.,

ONE OF THE SAFEST AND MOST SUBSTANTIAL BOATS ON THE RIVER.

Consignment and prompt attention given to the shipment of all kinds of Country Produce, Live Stock, etc.

LACLEDE HOUSE, HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.

THIS HOUSE HAS BEEN RECENTLY ENLARGED, REFITTED, REFURNISHED, and thoroughly renovated. Convenient to river and railroad, and attentive watch kept; and altogether one of the best appointed hotels in this section.

W. J. TURNER, Prop'r.

TO BUY YOUR

Drugs, Patent Medicines, FANCY TOILET ARTICLES, FINE PERFUMES, SOAPS, PAINTS, OILS, DYE STUFFS, CIGARS AND TOBACCO, Pocket Knives, Razors, SEWING MACHINES, &c.

Prescriptions Accurately Compounded at the Drug Store of

JNO. W. COWGILL.

CHOICE FAMILY GROCERY.

KYMES & MEACHAM.

Announce that they have in store a well-selected stock of CHOICE FAMILY GROCERIES, which they will sell as low as any regular house. Rent reserved in general use as a term applied to persons who extort money from others by threats of accusation or exposure of some alleged offense.

UNION CITY ITEMS FROM "OUR COURIER."—Wheat is looking splendid. Hog cholera prevalent.—The woolen factory is being repaired.—John T. Cassette, of Woodland Mills, has sold his saw mill.—The express office at Rives was robbed of $285 Saturday night, &c.

FULTON ITEMS FROM THE MONITOR.—Mrs. Ann Eliza Young, one of the widows of Brigham Young, is to lecture in Mayfield on the 12th.—The peach crop is expected to be a failure in Graves.—The Ballard County News has been resurrected and is edited by E. O. Pettit.—Capt. T. Elmore, J. K. Jamison, J. M. Cosby and G. W. Sanders are candidates to represent Graves in the Legislature.—Judge Boone is holding Circuit Court in place of Judge Crossland, &c.

The dead lock in the United States Senate is broken, and the Republicans have backed down.

An important feature of the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Cotton Planters' Association, at Memphis, Tenn., this week, will be the display of improved machinery for the cultivation and handling of cotton and other products. The leading implement factories of the North and West will be represented.

MARRIED.

BARNES—KINDRED.—In this city, at the Methodist church, Sunday last, by Rev. E. K. Bransford, Mr. J. O. Barnes, City Marshal of Hickman, and Miss Sue Kindred.

THE HICKMAN COURIER,
—PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY—
GEORGE WARREN
HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.
Office—Helm Building, Clinton Street.
The Oldest Newspaper in Western Kentucky.
George Warren, Editor.
Price of Subscription, $2.
FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1881

The Kentucky State Democratic Committee is to meet in Frankfort on the 12th to determine as to calling a convention to nominate a candidate for State Treasurer.

The St. Louis and Texas narrow gauge railroad company agents have been busy the past week and will soon have the northern end of the line located. It is now probable that the line will pass through Charleston and near New Madrid.

It looks now as though there would be as many candidates for Clerk of the Court of Appeals as there are counties in the State. The election does not take place until next August one year (1881), and yet there are at least a dozen candidates already in the field.

It is said Secretary Windom contemplates the retirement of the $1 and $2 greenbacks. If so, Secretary Windom contemplates a foolish thing—a very unpopular thing. The people will not willingly give up the $1 and $2 greenbacks. They are the most convenient notes in circulation.

TELEPHONES available for use over short lines are now so cheap and easily managed that they are coming into general use to connect residences with business offices. The cities and towns are covered with a maze of public and private wires extending in every direction and when these become disarranged by storms the confusion which ensues is often quite amusing.

AN INTERESTING DECISION.—In the United States Circuit Court at Memphis, Tenn., last week, Judge Baxter rendered a decision affirming one previously delivered by Judge Hammond, of the United States District Court, to the effect that a merchant furnishing supplies to a steamboat at the home port has a claim which, in settlement, takes precedence of a mortgage given before the supplies were delivered.

THE MEXICANS are again becoming uneasy about the numerous railroads now in process of construction through their States. They fear that the end of all will be the "Gringos." While this feeling excites this sentiment against annexation is growing in the United States, many believing we have enough discordant elements already without adding the turbulent mixed races of the revolutionary Mexico.

THE ASSASSINATION of the Czar struck terror to the heart of every person wearing a crown in Europe. All are guarded with the greatest vigilance. Even the Queen of England does not dare to take a railroad trip without sending an empty train ahead to catch the shock of any torpedoes or bombs that may be used against it. About the most unhappy people of Europe now are the Sovereigns. Bombs seem to be revolutionizing revolutions.

INTEREST has again been aroused in the Keely motor, so often denounced as a humbug. Last week Keely gave an exhibition of his motor to a large number of socialists and men whose position is evidence of the sincerity of their statements and unite in expressing their sentiments at the remarkable power of his machine. The principles upon which his machine is based is not revealed and until it is explained there will be great distrust in his schemes.

THE investigation of the star service in the postal department is creating a sensation in Washington and elsewhere. The frauds have been well known to exist but the difficulty has been to establish the facts. Now there is a probability that the whole truth will come out as the President has made the right move to secure a thorough ventilation of the matter, and it only needs the cooperation of congress to expose the rascals who have been so long robbing the nation.

THE witness in the famous Morley letter, which played such a conspicuous part in the Presidential canvass, has been convicted and sentenced to eight years imprisonment. We can say, with a very few of the Democratic editors, that we neither gave this slander credence nor publication. We fought the battle upon the Cincinnati platform, though many abandoned it and sought to gain the victory by slinging mud. We rejoice at the conviction and can sincerely wish that all who assisted in its production were served likewise.

THE aim of the new Czar is plainly to strengthen himself with his own people before making any attempt to increase his dominion. The nihilists are determined to force him to make concessions and establish a constitutional monarchy. Perhaps Russia will be in a ferment of insurrection partially suppressed for many years to come, for beyond the occasional killing of an emperor or officer the nihilists seem to have no power. It will require years to educate the Russians so that they will understand how to establish and maintain the government they desire.

Some Kentucky statistics. From tabulated statements in the Courier-Journal we glean the following interesting facts in regard to the enormous population of Kentucky: Lunatics, in the three Asylums, 1,628; Deaf and Dumb, in Asylums, 127; Feeble-minded children, 130; Idiots, 850.

The population of the State of Kentucky is 1,648,539, and the ratios of the afflicted classes are: Lunatics, 1 to every 1,073 persons; blind, 1 to every 22,897; deaf and dumb, 1 to every 12,871; feeble minded, 1 to every 12,681; idiots, 1 to every 1,339.

Should the Kentucky Court of Appeals affirm the judgment of the Franklin County Court that whisky in warehouse is subject to State tax, it is estimated the State treasury will be enriched to the extent of $300,000. The tax (at the rate of forty-five and one half cents on the $100) will amount to a little more than one-half cent per gallon.

Struggle to say the millions of gallons of whisky made every year in Kentucky have never been taxed for State and county purposes. Everything else in the line of personal property which a man can own is taxed. There is no exemption from taxation because the general law regarding taxation has never been enforced against whisky in the warehouse. Auditor Hewitt finding no law exempting whisky from taxation for State and county purposes, and knowing no reason why it should not be assessed for taxation like horses, cattle, hogs, etc., directed it to be so assessed for 1880 and 1881. The whisky manufacturers in upper Kentucky are up in arms about it. A test case has been made with W. A. Gaines & Co. of Franklin county as defendants, who had 9,297 barrels, forty-two gallons each, in bond on January 10, 1880, and argued before Judge Thompson of the Franklin county court. The decision rendered after elaborate argument on both sides, is that every gallon of it is liable to taxation.

A Great Speech. The speech of Hon. Wm. Lindsay, of Frankfort, in the case of Z. Smith against the Western Union Telegraph Company, was a masterpiece of the best ever delivered in the court house in New Castle. The jury hung consequently the case will be called again in the near future.

Expensive Souce. [From the Washington Post.] The costliest single dish of which we have any record was not Lucullus' supper of nightingales' tongues, or the draught which Cleopatra gave to Antony, in which she first dissolved her pearls, but Cadet Whitaker's case. One hundred thousand dollars for a single mess of soup is too much.

The Obstructionists. A repudiating ring in Nashville have employed a number of able lawyers for the purpose of enjoining the Funding Board from funding the State debt under the 10th article of the constitution of the insufficiency of the caption and the unconstitutionality of the act. It is evident that we are to have trouble if the courts shall open the smallest gap for the repudiating Democrats who, for years, have been trying to disgrace and degrade the State and break up the Democratic party.

A Sunday Law Spanm. LOUISVILLE, April 29.—The State Attorney for this county has commenced several suits against the Louisville & Nashville railroad for violation of Sunday law. The petitions specify the running of certain trains, the employment of men, and said plaintiff further states that by reason of said facts defendant by virtue of the statute in such cases, is and is provided to become liable to fines in favor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, to plaintiff as aforesaid, in the sum of $350 as follows to wit: One fine of $50 for running and operating said train, and six other fines of $50 each for employment of persons engaged in work and labor upon the same, whereupon plaintiff prays judgment against the defendant for the sum of $350 and costs.

The Mississippi Valley. The sentiment in favor of a united Mississippi Valley is extending eastward and it will not be long before the people of Illinois and Indiana of Ohio and Kentucky as well as the northern central States will see their best interests in encouraging and aiding the Mississippi and its tributaries as the best and cheapest water routes, and the construction of rail routes parallel with them to provide rapid transportation when necessary. They are beginning to see that the cheapest way of carrying in heavy freight is especially agricultural productions, is by water that natural water routes are cheaper than artificial ones can possibly be made.—Doctor Enterprise.

Abolition's Son. All the Cabinet officers have plenty of people to call on business and pay respects. In the matter of the great number of visitors Secretary Lincoln, however, "makes the case." In addition to the regular tide he has one hundred colored people who want to shake hands with him to one that visits the other members of the Cabinet for that purpose. The War Department is crowded every day with colored people. They all say the same thing. They simply want to shake hands with the son of the man who issued the emancipation proclamation. All classes, from the city swell to the "country bumpkin" from "Old Virginia," make a Mecca of the War Department. He receives them all and greets them not only with a hand grip, but with a few cheerful words of greeting. Some times, in the case of an old fashioned colored man or woman, he will talk for some little time with them.—Ex.

A man is now imprisoned in the New York jail for obeying the injunction of the Bible to let his eye be as and his eye, say. He was chosen on a jury and being a very devout man refused to swear or affirm because the Bible does not sanction such proceed and is imprisoned for contempt of court.

GREAT WATER HIGHWAY.
The Mississippi as a Protection Against Railroad Monopolies.

[Philadelphia American.] The development of the Mississippi river, as the greatest highway by which the products of the Mississippi Valley will find their way to foreign countries, is at present exciting a great deal of attention both East and West, and there are several additional trunk lines of railroads between the East and West now under way, at least two of which it is promised will be completed during the current year. It is a grave question for railroad managers to consider as to whether the future traffic by the trunk lines will not be largely reduced by the diversion of that traffic by the way of the Mississippi river. For the past two years, the trunk lines have done an enormous business, and notwithstanding the early opening of the Northern water route, the quantity of grain yet to come forward is undoubtedly sufficient to give them a good business for some time to come. Nevertheless, an apparent realization on the part of some of the railroad managers of the fact that the future control of this business is, to say the least problematical, has done more towards unsettling the practically harmonious arrangements that have existed for the past two years between the trunk lines than anything that has occurred since the appointment of Commissioner Fink as the arbiter of railroad transportation.

Buying up The Bars. A novel experiment in the way of temperance reform is about to be tried at the little town of Berwick, on the North Branch of the Susquehanna, Columbia county, Pa. There are large shops at this place for building cars, and the proprietors are often embarrassed by the failure of many of their employees to report for duty at times they are greatly needed. Some good mechanics cannot refrain from going on a debauch after they get their month's pay. As a matter of course, the employer loses the benefit of their skill and labor until they have recovered. The President of the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Company, at Berwick, has determined to diminish the opportunities for this kind of indulgence by paying the three licensed hotels in the town for closing up their bars. The estimated profits of these three establishments from the sale of liquors aggregate $6,000 a year, and this sum the President of the car manufacturing company has agreed to pay. He expects to get his money back in the increased efficiency of his one thousand workmen.

Short-Sighted Policy. In a publication now in press, Mr. John R. Proctor, Director of the Geological Survey and Bureau of Immigration in Kentucky, calls public attention to the short-sighted policy pursued by some Kentucky railroad managers. Some of the railroads in Kentucky are now pursuing the short-sighted policy of having emigration agents, whose duty it is to disseminate the publications of the Northern and Western land agents, and offer cheap fare and other inducements to citizens of this State to move West. Knowing as I do that many persons are thereby induced to emigrate from the State, and that few of them have bettered their condition by so doing, and that most of them have been deceived by untrue statements, I deem it my duty to publish a warning to the people of this State and the South, and ask of such as contemplate removing to the West a careful study of the facts.

Star Route Swindle. Since the exposure of the whisky ring nothing has so irritated the rock losses which has so long prevailed in the various departments. Great credit is given and great credit is due the Postmaster General James for the manner in which he is conducting this investigation, and for the high ideas he has of the responsibility of his position. He acknowledges his obligation to obey the laws and to observe the limitation which it imposes; it is just what his predecessor would not do. On the 15th and 16th of March, 1880, Senator Beck, always keen to detect fraud and expose it, made a speech in the Senate which laid bare the rascalities which Brady was practicing, and which Key was attempting to cover. This speech of Senator Beck is worthy of attention on many accounts. It goes to the root of the matter, and it is a fact that a Presidential election was approaching and Brady was a good "worker" this speech would have brought about his downfall.

Cholera Precursor. [New York Herald.] The increase of typhus fever in this city derives its chief significance from the fact that this disease portends a possible epidemic of Asiatic cholera. That the sequence of typhus fever and cholera—as plagues that find congenial lodgment in the same locality—is a theory, may be shown by reference to the highest practical and professional authority. Dr. Max Von Pettenkofer, of Munich, counsellor and professor of hygiene in the University of Munich, and one of the most able living investigators of cholera epidemics, testifies: "Experience has frequently shown that cholera has a special preference for such parts or localities as are visited epidemically by enteric fever." To this deliberate judgment of Dr. Pettenkofer, published in 1873, the eminent writer adds: "The more filthy and the more impregnated a stratum of soil is the more active an agent it is for cholera and typhus." The reason assigned for the affinity between the famous "black death" (the historic name of typhus) and the fell Asiatic plague is that both diseases depend to a certain extent upon the determination of the dampness of the soil, which is obviously increased when the stratum of earth which excludes the sunshine and prevents the sun's rays from penetrating the soil.

The Globe-Democrat furnishes consolation to the farmers whose lands are now overgrown: "Yet the fertile lands of the bottoms are the product of the river, and these great foundations are a source of fertility which is inexhaustible. If no destruction accompanied them their value as fertilizers would be incalculable. The river would be viewed not as an enemy, but as a friend, and its rising would be a cause not of anxiety, but of gratification."

SHORT-HORNS IN FULTON.
The Experience of One of Our Best Farmers.

[Miles, Ky., May 3, 1881.] Editor Hickman Courier.—I sold, on the 2nd inst., to Mr. J. J. Miller, of Hickman, Mo., a Short-Horn, calf, ten months old, by $375, and two thoroughbred yearling heifers for $200 each. The day following this sale I paid Mr. L. Alexander, sr., $50 cash for a red bull calf six months old, by $375. I send you these sales that you may report them and thereby attract the attention of the people of our county to a husbandry which, in my judgment, could be made of all others the most profitable. Think of this thing: a thoroughbred bull calf will always, at six or eight months old, bring from $50 to $100. I have sold all I have been able to breed at these prices and have been unable to supply a constantly increasing demand for this breed of cattle. The demand is not great for heifers, but still they go off readily and at remunerative prices. Now, if you will hear my advice, I would suggest to you that you should not, to-day, single thoroughbred Short-Horn, male or female, in Fulton county for sale. I receive letters of inquiry nearly every week from parties who want Short-Horns. I am exhausted and can fill no orders. Mr. Alexander is in like condition. He has a fine lot of Short-Horns in the State and is unable to fill orders. Where nearly every other man is a breeder of blooded stock of all kinds, I, for one, suppose that, instead of the breeders of Short-Horns in Fulton county, there was fifty or one hundred engaged in anything that has occurred since the appointment of Commissioner Fink as the arbiter of railroad transportation.

C. L. Randle, Attorney at Law, Collector, Real Estate Agent, Hickman, Ky. Will attend promptly to all business entrusted to his care. Office—Mill Block, no. 78.

C. Hughlette Wilson, Attorney at Law, AND REAL ESTATE AGENT, Hickman, Ky. Real Estate Bought, Sold, Rented, Exchanged, and Taxes Paid.

Field Seed of All Kinds, Lime, Cement, Land-Plaster, STAPLE & FANCY GROCERIES, mehl DONDURANT & BREWERY. New! New! New!!

F. E. CASE, Retail Dealer in Staple and Fancy GROCERIES. Keeps in stock at all times fresh and choice Groceries, Provisions, Canned and on real estate. It may be that the enforcement of the law would be an instance work hardship, but the State tax (45¢ cents on the $100 valuation) is not high, and as a matter of justice to people who properly pay their taxes, delinquent land owners should be compelled to pony up.—Covington Commonwealth.

W. DIESTELBRINK, Family Groceries. NO space to name all articles, but no trouble to show goods. Come and see at the corner of Troy and Moscow Avenue, East Hickman, Ky. Jan 25

R. M. METHENY, Family Grocery and Provision Store. KEEPS the best Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Flour, Lard, Bacon, &c., to be found in Hickman. Having no partner to divide profits with, will sell goods the cheaper. Speciality in Coffee—Green, Ground and Roasted. Come and see for yourself. Country produce of all kinds taken in exchange for goods or Cash. [mar 12]

Powell & Bro., HICKMAN, KENTUCKY, GROCERS, COMMISSION MERCHANTS, AND DEALERS IN PRODUCE, SALT, CEMENT, LIME, FEED OF ALL KINDS FOR STOCK, Farm Machinery, AND IMPLEMENTS, FERTILIZERS AND CHOICE FIELD SEEDS a specialty. Headquarters for all kinds of School Books and School Supplies.

J. W. COLE, School and Miscellaneous BOOKS, Stationery, Wall Paper, Picture Frames, Pocket Cutlery, Toys, and Fancy Goods. CLINTON STREET, HICKMAN, KY.

Send for copies of my New Reduced Price Lists of Picture Frames, Chromos, Brackets, Croquet Sets and Base Balls for 1881.

Professional Cards.
DR. A. A. FARIS
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON,
HICKMAN, KENTUCKY.
OFFERS his Professional Services to the citizens of Hickman and vicinity.
Jan 16-80

DR. A. M. PARKER, DENTIST, [Office in Mill Block.] ALL operations performed in the most artistic manner. Special attention given to the regulation of children's teeth. July 4-79

H. A. & R. T. Tyler, Attorneys at Law, HICKMAN KENTUCKY, WILL ATTEND TO ALL BUSINESS entrusted to their care. Office—Mill Block, no. 78.

C. L. Randle, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Collector, Real Estate Agent, HICKMAN, KY. Will attend promptly to all business entrusted to him in Southern Kentucky and Northwestern Tennessee. Special attention given to the investigation of land titles, and the purchase and sale of Real Estate. [Jan 31]

C. Hughlette Wilson, Attorney at Law, AND REAL ESTATE AGENT, HICKMAN, KY. Real Estate Bought, Sold, Rented, Exchanged, and Taxes Paid.

HAVING permanently located in Hickman, man, will practice in all the Courts of the first Judicial District. The collection of claims and investigation of real estate titles made a specialty.

Grocers, FIELD SEED OF ALL KINDS, Lime, Cement, Land-Plaster, STAPLE & FANCY GROCERIES, mehl DONDURANT & BREWERY. New! New! New!! F. E. CASE, Retail Dealer in Staple and Fancy GROCERIES.

J. W. ROGERS, KEEPS all kinds of staple and fancy GROCERIES, and Confectioneries. Will be pleased to see his old customers, and will both suit them in price and quality. Call and see us. "Quick Sales and Small Profits." Won't be underest. [Jan 12]

W. DIESTELBRINK, Family Groceries. NO space to name all articles, but no trouble to show goods. Come and see at the corner of Troy and Moscow Avenue, East Hickman, Ky. Jan 25

R. M. METHENY, Family Grocery and Provision Store. KEEPS the best Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Flour, Lard, Bacon, &c., to be found in Hickman. Having no partner to divide profits with, will sell goods the cheaper. Speciality in Coffee—Green, Ground and Roasted. Come and see for yourself. Country produce of all kinds taken in exchange for goods or Cash. [mar 12]

Powell & Bro., HICKMAN, KENTUCKY, GROCERS, COMMISSION MERCHANTS, AND DEALERS IN PRODUCE, SALT, CEMENT, LIME, FEED OF ALL KINDS FOR STOCK, Farm Machinery, AND IMPLEMENTS, FERTILIZERS AND CHOICE FIELD SEEDS a specialty. Headquarters for all kinds of School Books and School Supplies.

J. W. COLE, School and Miscellaneous BOOKS, Stationery, Wall Paper, Picture Frames, Pocket Cutlery, Toys, and Fancy Goods. CLINTON STREET, HICKMAN, KY.

Send for copies of my New Reduced Price Lists of Picture Frames, Chromos, Brackets, Croquet Sets and Base Balls for 1881.

TAX SALE!

I will, on Monday, the 9th day of May, 1881, offer for sale, for CASH, at the court house door in Hickman, Ky., to the highest bidder the following real estate, belonging to the parties named herein, to satisfy the taxes and costs due on same, unless said taxes and costs are sooner paid:

NAMES OF TAXPAYERS.	LAND AND No. of acres.	NEAREST RESIDENT.	CITY OR TOWN LOCATED.	Years Due.	Taxes Due.	Costs Due.	Total Taxes and Costs.
Porter & Tracy,	100	George Lepp,	1	1880	47	10	57
Willingham, Susan	60	Wm Alexander	1	1880	27	10	37
Walton, S. B.	40	E. M. Brady,	1	1880	3	10	13
Bennett, B. B.	40	San'l Trout,	1	1878	30	10	40
Clark, J. D.	80	Dane Jones,	1	1880	73	10	83
Knights heirs,	33	M. Adams, sr.,	1	1879	2	10	12
Calhoun heirs,	33	" "	1	1880	10	10	20
Bowman, N. heirs,	150	Wm. Tally,	1	1880	21	10	31
Davis, L. D.	150	" "	1	1880	35	10	45
Davis, L. D. for Dan Davis,	150	" "	1	1880	56	10	66
Gardner, J. A.	160	T J Bradshaw,	1	1880	75	10	85
Kingland & Ferguson,	60	" "	1	1880	48	10	58
Kingman for G. V. Martin,	60	" "	1	1880	48	10	58
Maloney, O. L.	4	S. F. Dick,	1	1880	142	10	152
Marrs, J. F., deceased,	60	Wm. Tally,	1	1879	120	10	130
Murphy, Ellen	480	Lewis Bolton,	1	1879	84	10	94
Merrillweather, A. L.	1	" "	1	1880	2	10	12
Stablefield, G. W.	34	" "	1	1880	42	10	52
Wood, Cristy & Co.,	22	" "	1	1880	57	10	67
Wilson, G. S.	20	H. Wilson,	1	1880	73	10	83
Willitt, G. W.	140	G. Marshall,	1	1880	75	10	85
Whitaker's heirs,	20	R. A. Finch,	1	1880	3	10	13
Bulluck, R. M.	200	J. O. A. Cooper,	1	1880	42	10	52
McAbbe, Ed. P.	200	" "	1	1880	42	10	52
Sisson, Albert G.	100	Island No. 8,	1	1880	73	10	83
Workman, Wm.	100	J. O. A. Cooper,	1	1880	36	10	46
Winston, S. W.	100	" "	1	1880	78	10	88
French, Daniel, heirs,	100	" "	1	1880	78	10	88
LaVallie heirs,	100	" "	1	1880	78	10	88
Richardson, S. S. heirs,	100	" "	1	1880	78	10	88
Sumaker & Serdan,	100	" "	1	1880	78	10	88

COLORED LIST: Bass, Gus 1 Hickman 1880 1 52 84 2 36 Bird, Lucy 1 " 1880 31 74 1 03 Gardner, Wm and wife 1 " 1880 1 00 99 05 08 Hammond, Mary 1 " 1880 73 78 1 24 Love, Fannie 1 " 1880 73 78 1 24

"Life estate and children's interest. B. R. WALKER, S. F. C.

HAVING permanently located in Hickman, man, will practice in all the Courts of the first Judicial District. The collection of claims and investigation of real estate titles made a specialty.

Grocers, FIELD SEED OF ALL KINDS, Lime, Cement, Land-Plaster, STAPLE & FANCY GROCERIES, mehl DONDURANT & BREWERY. New! New! New!! F. E. CASE, Retail Dealer in Staple and Fancy GROCERIES.

J. W. ROGERS, KEEPS all kinds of staple and fancy GROCERIES, and Confectioneries. Will be pleased to see his old customers, and will both suit them in price and quality. Call and see us. "Quick Sales and Small Profits." Won't be underest. [Jan 12]

W. DIESTELBRINK, Family Groceries. NO space to name all articles, but no trouble to show goods. Come and see at the corner of Troy and Moscow Avenue, East Hickman, Ky. Jan 25

R. M. METHENY, Family Grocery and Provision Store. KEEPS the best Coffee, Sugar, Molasses, Flour, Lard, Bacon, &c., to be found in Hickman. Having no partner to divide profits with, will sell goods the cheaper. Speciality in Coffee—Green, Ground and Roasted. Come and see for yourself. Country produce of all kinds taken in exchange for goods or Cash. [mar 12]

Powell & Bro., HICKMAN, KENTUCKY, GROCERS, COMMISSION MERCHANTS, AND DEALERS IN PRODUCE, SALT, CEMENT, LIME, FEED OF ALL KINDS FOR STOCK, Farm Machinery, AND IMPLEMENTS, FERTILIZERS AND CHOICE FIELD SEEDS a specialty. Headquarters for all kinds of School Books and School Supplies.

J. W. COLE, School and Miscellaneous BOOKS, Stationery, Wall Paper, Picture Frames, Pocket Cutlery, Toys, and Fancy Goods. CLINTON STREET, HICKMAN, KY.

Send for copies of my New Reduced Price Lists of Picture Frames, Chromos, Brackets, Croquet Sets and Base Balls for 1881.

Send for copies of my New Reduced Price Lists of Picture Frames, Chromos, Brackets, Croquet Sets and Base Balls for 1881.

New Restaurant!

Meals only 25cts! The politest attention given to patrons. A splendid cook. Meals from 6 to 8, and from 12 to 2 o'clock. Special rates to regular boarders. Meals 25c. se 30

Chas. Nichols. FURISH SCHROEDER, FASHIONABLE BOOT AND SHOE MAKER. SHOP—North West corner of Moscow and Troy Avenues, East Hickman, Ky. Satisfaction guaranteed. ly

Wm. B. Plummer, KENTUCKY STREET, KEEPS constantly on hand for hire HORSES, BUGGIES and HACKS. Thankful for patronage heretofore extended him, he solicits a continuance of same. John G. Griffin, Merchant Tailor, HAS JUST RECEIVED BUTTERICK'S Report of latest Fall and Winter Fashions, and a large lot of samples of French, English and German goods. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine. se 25

HICKMAN MARBLE WORKS, B. C. Ramage, DEALER IN ITALIAN AND AMERICAN MARBLE MONUMENTS, TOMB AND GRAVE STONES.

HAVING received a fine lot of American Italian Marble, I am prepared to fill all orders. Call and examine our work. Orders from the country promptly filled. may 25

BARBERSHOP [NEXT DOOR TO AMBERG'S STORE.] CLINTON ST., HICKMAN, KY.

Having just fitted up a neat SHAVING SALOON in the room next door to J. Amberg Sons Store, I am prepared to accommodate every one in need of shaving, Hair Cutting, Dyeing, Shampooing, or anything in the barber's line. Children's Hair Cutting a Specialty! Having had long experience, I feel confident of giving satisfaction, and solicit a share of public patronage. Shaving, 10cts. Hair Cutting, 25cts. oct 8 CHAS. D'ELWARD.

Public Notice. Having concluded to accept the agency for Hickman of the celebrated CHAITE OAK Cook Stoves, we will keep a complete line of Extensions, Ranges and Common Stoves, at all times. oct 25 J. W. CORMAN & CO.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED! JUST PUBLISHED, a new edition of Dr. CULVERWELL'S "Cure for Manhood," a new and radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and its, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c. The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine, or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically. This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address the Publishers, THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO., 41 And St. New York, P. O. Box 4588.

FREE "THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH" Is a book that has been read by thousands, and pronounced both interesting and instructive, and read by all thinking people. It explains the principles of life and death, and the origin of diseases. It is a book that should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address the Publishers, THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO., 41 And St. New York, P. O. Box 4588.

NICHOLS, SHEPARD & CO. Battle Creek, Michigan, MANUFACTURERS OF THE ONLY GENUINE VIBRATOR

THRESHERS, Traction and Plain Engines and Horse-Powers. Most Complete Thresher Factory! Established 1849. 32 YEARS of continuous and successful business. Power Tractors, Engines, and all kinds of machinery, of location, to "look up the road" carrying from our old goods.

STEAM-POWER SEPARATORS and Complete Steam Engines of various makes. Power Tractors, Engines, and all kinds of machinery, of location, to "look up the road" carrying from our old goods.

7,500,000 Feet of Selected Lumber constantly on hand, from which is built the inimitable works of our old goods.

TRACTION ENGINES Strongest and durable, and efficient over 8, 10, 15 Horse Power.

Farmers and Threshers are invited to visit this factory. Threshing Machinery, Circular Saws, and all kinds of machinery, of location, to "look up the road" carrying from our old goods.

NICHOLS, SHEPARD & CO. Battle Creek, Michigan